DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Applicant's election without traverse of Species II (Figs.2A,2B and 2C) in the reply filed on 11/22/2004 is acknowledged. Applicant identified claims 1-16,21 and 22 as being readable upon Species II. However, claims 1-7,10-14,16 and 21 are not readable on Figs.2A,2B and 2C. Therefore, claims 1-7,10-14,16 and 21 have been withdrawn in this Office Action by the Examiner.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

- (b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.
- 3. Claims 8,9,15 and 22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Mathiprakasam et al. (U.S. Patent Number 6,295,819).

Mathiprakasam et al. disclose a thermoelectric heat pump fluid circuit. Referring to Figs. 1 and 2, the system comprises a thermoelectric heat pump 14, a fluid circuit 16, a control system 26 and a valve 20. The fluid circuit 16 consists of enclosed fluid-carrying conduits and includes a hot channel 32 passing by the heating junction 28 of the heat pump 14 and a cold channel 34 passing by the cooling junction 30 of the heat pump. The control system may be programmed to control the speed of the fan 22 to regulate the amount of excess heat that is removed from the fluid circuit and convected to ambient. The control system may control the speed of the pump 18 to regulate the fluid flow rate in the fluid circuit to control how quickly the device can be heated and cooled. These will control the temperature in one region and regulate the temperature of the other region. Under the principals of inherency, if a prior art device, in its normal and usual operation, would necessarily perform the method claimed, then the method claimed will be considered to be anticipated by the prior art device. When the prior art device is the same as a device described in the specification for carrying out the claimed method, it can be assumed the device will inherently perform the claimed process. Ir re King, 801 F.2d 1324, 231 USPO 136 (Fed. Cir. 1986).

Double Patenting

4. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

5. Claims 8,15 and 22 are provisionally rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 11,12,25,26 and 27 of copending Application No. 10/852,762. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because both applications claim heating/cooling device, fluid heat transfer pathway and controller to regulate the temperature.

Art Unit: 3744

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.
